CURRICULUM CONFERENCE WILL END FRIDAY; SUMMER SESSION TO AUGUST

Curriculum Conference to Be Outstanding Feature for First Six Weeks; Many Guest Speakers

During the second week of the summer session, June 14-18 a curriculum conference is being conducted under the direction of the Department of Education of this college. This is the second year that such a conference has been arranged for, the first being conducted at the beginning of the summer term last year with Dr. Paul Hanna, professor of Education at Stanford University leading the conference discussions.

This year two visiting professors have been secured to serve as conference leaders: they are Dr. L. Thomas Hopkins, professor of Education, Teachers' College, Columbia University, and Dr. Ralph D. Russell, professor of Education, University of Idaho. Conference meetings are scheduled every afternoon Monday to Friday at two o'clock and will be held in the old auditorium. Meetings are open to anyone who wishes to attend; students, faculty members and outsiders are welcome to come and participate in the discussion. A number of school men—superintendents, principals, and supervisors have written indicating their intentions to come to Ellensburg and attend these sessions.

Fundamentals Considered

At a time when much debate and uncertainty regarding the nature and content of the curriculum is being expressed by professional workers everywhere, it seems desirable to give thought to basic considerations, philosophical, psychological, and sociological, upon which the modern curriculum is built; it is also necessary to understand and to evaluate trends in curriculum development. This conference, therefore, will constitute an organized attempt to give orientation to the classroom teacher, administrator and supervisor in the direction and supervision of the learning process.

On Monday afternoon, Dr. Hopkins led the discussion and spoke on "Foundations of Curriculum Making;" on Tuesday Dr. Russell discussed "Integration: Meaning and Achievement;" on Wednesday, Miss Hebel led the discussion on "The Elementary Curriculum" and Dr. Russell will follow on Thursday with a discussion of "The Emerging Secondary Curriculum." The Conference will be brought to a close on Friday when Dr. Hopkins will attempt to summarize the discussions of the week and also discuss "Next Steps in Curriculum Making; Necessary Administrative Changes."

General Discussion Period

The conference will be of the open forum character. The leaders will open the discussion and develop the thought for a thirty minute period after which considerable time will be given over to questions and critical comment by members of the forum group.

Dr. Hopkins and Dr. Russell will be available on the college campus all week and are to be considered as visiting instructors. Arrangements are being made to have them participate in classroom work in classes in Education during the forenoon. It is hoped, also, that students will feel free to organize informal discussion groups and utilize the services of these men in the consideration of educational problems.

SCHOOL LEADERS COMPLETE FINAL PLANS OF PROGRAM FOR SUMMER

Hopkins and Russell Lead Discussions on Nature and Content of Educational Programs

Plans have been completed for what appears to be the most ambitious summer school program in the history of the Central Washington College of Education.

The first six week's session will terminate July 16, while the eleven week's session will close on August 19.

The regular college staff will be augmented by six visiting professors. They are: Dr. Reginald Bell, educational psychologist, Stanford University; Dr. Gerald S. Craig, authority on public science, Teachers College, Columbia University; Dr. L. Thomas Hopkins, authority on progressive education, Teachers College, Columbia University; Dr. R. D. Russell, State curriculum director, University of Idaho; Miss Ellen Jane Potter, specialist in dancing and physical education for women, University of Oregon; and Mr. Paul Parker, artist, University of Chicago.

New Courses Listed

Eighteen new courses dealing with curriculum revision and new curriculum materials are to be offered. They include: Modern Trends in the School Curriculum; Modern Trends in Primary Education; Trends in Junior High School Education; Development of Modern Educational Thought; Modern Systems of Psychology; Reading Readiness; Kindergarten-Primary Curriculum; Activities in the Intermediate Grades; Developing Child Personalities; Creative Activities; Imaginative Writing; Story Selection for Kindergarten and Junior-Primary; Selection of Books for the Elementary School Library; Problems of Speech and Drama; Song Literature; Science for Elementary Teachers; Science for Junior High School Teachers; and Integrated Social Studies for the Junior High School.

CONFERENCE SCHEDULED

An outstanding feature of the summer session is the Second Annual Curriculum Conference to be held during the week of June 14 to 18, inclusive. This Conference offers a series of lectures and panel discussions on the public school curriculum and trends in public school philosophy and psychology. The Conference is open to students of the summer session as well as to visitors who are in attendance for the one week only. The Conference is under the direction of Dr. E. E. Samuelson, director of personnel. The panel discussion leaders are Dr. L. Thomas Hopkins, Columbia University; Dr. R. D. Russell, University of Idaho; and Miss Amanda Hebel, director of training, Ellensburg. Other participants on the panel include Dr. Edgar Draper, Kennedy, Elementary Supervisor, University of Washington; Mr. Elmer State Department of Education, Olympia; and Mr. Gus Lybecker, Superintendent of Schools, Pomeroy.

Other special features of the summer session are the visual education laboratory under the direction of Dr. L. D. Sparks, the nursery school under the direction of Mrs. Mary Carstensen, a course in Extinct Flora and Fauna of the Far West under the direction of Mr. George Beck, who will conduct trips to the Ginkgo Petrified Forest and Museum, and courses in laboratory work in reading under the personal supervision of members of the staff of the training school.

KAMOLA TEA

The first social gesture of the Central College of Education for the summer quarter was a tea at Kamola hall Sunday afternoon, June 13, from four until six o'clock to welcome the summer students.

It was sponsored by the Women's League. In the receiving line were: Joe Chiotti, Woodrow Epp, John Hunter, the Misses Katherine Riggs and Eva Lusby, Neal McKay of the class of 1932 and Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Whitney. Mrs. Lula Rainey of Sue Lombard, poured.

ATTENTION, CRIER STAFF, and all interested in working on the paper: the meeting for the purpose of making assignments for the second issue will be held today, at 4:00 p. m. in the Crier office in the basement of Old Ad.

Welcome to Students

We of the college staff welcome you to the 1937 summer term. We are looking forward to a pleasant and stimulating session. Visits and discussions with one another will be pleasant experiences.

You will find many courses and events which have been arranged in order that you may contact the new in progressive education. The elementary training school is operating for your observation. The nursery school is available to those who are interested in early childhood education and psychology. Visual education apparatus available to departments of instruction will make it possible to present interesting and instructive materials. The Science Department will sponsor a trip to the Ginkgo Park. Eighteen new courses are listed on the program of studies. Instructive and entertaining programs will be presented in the College Auditorium each Tuesday and Thursday afternoon. The Second Annual Summer Curriculum Conference will serve to call our attention to the next steps in curriculum revisions. All of these phases of the program should be refreshing. We wish for you a profitable summer of work and recreation.

ROBERT E. McCONNELL,
President.

DR. HOPKINS TALKS ON MEXICAN TRIP

Many Interesting Phases of Journey Revealed in Talk At Assembly Tuesday

By D. M. Cope

The second assembly of the Summer Session held Tuesday, June 15, opened with musical selections by Marjorie Brown with Myrtle Brown as accompanist. Two violin solos, Cyril Scott's "Lotus Land" and Moussorgsky's "Hopok," were enjoyed by the large audience in attendance.

The speaker for the morning was Dr. Thomas L. Hopkins, curriculum specialist at Lincoln School, Teachers' College, Columbia University. He spoke on "Impressions of Mexico" and gave some highlights of a recent trip to that country, taken over the Pan American Highway from Laredo, Texas, to Mexico City. Some significant facts mentioned were the five divisions or classes of people to be found in Mexico today. These included the old regime aristocracy, the revolutionary aristocracy, the middle class of laborers, shopkeepers, business men and state employees constituting about ten per cent of the seventeen millions of population, the fifteen million Indians, and the foreign element.

There is only one political party in the Mexico of today, namely the Revolutionary Party, which is controlled by the middle class entirely. Included in the government's program of Social Adjustment as carried in by the Revolutionary Party are the Land Program, the Industrial Policy, and the educational Program. The proper-

PLAY FRIDAY NIGHT PROVES SUCCESS

Mero and Hofmann Present Outstanding Performance

In what was possibly their final appearance on the stage of C. W. C. E.'s auditorium, Betty Hofman and Jack Mero played in George Bernard Shaw's three-act farce, "A Village Wooing," Friday, June 11.

A three-act play with only two characters speaking is a test for the actors in the play, but Mero and Miss Hoffman acquitted themselves very well, in the roles known only as "A" and "Z." The audience was a responsive one, enjoying fully the barbed lines of the play. It was Mr. Shaw at his funniest.

The string ensemble, under the direction of Mr. Pyle, played during the intermission between acts.

Miss Hofman, a graduate of Ellensburg High school and a former student at the University of Washington, will return to Seattle this summer to attend school there. Mr. Mero has accepted an engagement for the summer at Portland's Russian Samovar. Bon Voyage to them both.

PRESIDENT TO BE STANFORD SPEAKER

Pres to be speaker at Stanford ...24

Dr. Robert McConnell has been invited to participate in the Annual Summer Curriculum Conference at Stanford University, which is to be held the week of July 7 to 11. He will speak on "Teacher Training Appropriate for the Modern School," and will serve as chairman of the section dealing with "The Program of the University of Minnesota General College." Following this he will go to the University of Washington where he will spend a week participating in curriculum conference being held there.

WHITNEY GIVES APPLICATION DATA

Diploma Deadline July 1st; Four Types Are Listed; Must Get Forms

Four types of diplomas will be granted at the close of the summer session.

1. The Special Normal School Diploma. This diploma is granted upon the completion of the three-year prescribed curriculum.

2. Advanced Special Normal School Diploma. This diploma is granted upon the completion of the four-year prescribed curriculum. The degree of Bachelor of Arts in Education is automatically conferred upon those who are eligible for this diploma.

3. Graduate Normal School Diploma. This diploma is granted to those who have completed a four-year curriculum at some standard degree-granting institution and who have completed a one-year prescribed curriculum at this institution. The degree of Bachelor of Arts in Education is conferred at the option of the candidate.

4. Normal School Life Diploma. This diploma is conferred upon any holder of one of the diplomas described above who has taught successfully twenty-four months and provided the number of credits on file is not less than 159.

July 1st Deadline

Students who will be eligible for any of the above diplomas are asked to secure the appropriate application form from the Registrar's office and file the application not later than July first so that the proper papers may be prepared for delivery at the close of the quarter.

Mixed Chorus from Minneapolis Is On Extensive Northwest Tour

The Augsburg College choir, under the direction of Professor Henry P. Opseth will present a musical concert in the Junior High school auditorium, Monday evening, June 21, at 8 p. m.

Admission will be 25c for children, 35c for students and 50c for adults.

The Augsburg choir is made up of young men and women from the Music and Liberal Arts departments of Augsburg College in Minneapolis. They have gained wide acclaim for distinctive rendition of sacred choral music. They have been presented to audiences from coast to coast through the NBC and have given concerts of the Columbia Broadcasting system as well as making extensive tours throughout the Northwest.

Carl G. O. Hansen, Minneapolis writer and music critic, says of them: "After being in existence just a few months, this choir already became a factor in the rich musical life of the Twin Cities. I expect the Augsburg College choir soon to rank with the foremost choirs of the Northwest."

It is hoped that the music lovers of C. W. C. E. will take advantage of the opportunity to hear this fine group.

ty of the few great landowners, who belonged to the old aristocracy, has been divided into small parcels and given to the Indians, who are expected to repay the government for these "Subsistence Homesteads." In the opinion of the speaker it would take the lifetime not only of the farmer but those of several generations of his descendants to repay the loan at the present rate of agricultural production, since the farmer raises only enough to support himself, and since the barter system is still practiced as a method of exchange even in the larger cities.

Under the Industrial Policy most of the working class has been unionized and minimum wage laws have been enacted. The main industry at the present time is concerned with the tourist trade. The supporters of this proposed policy wish to make Mexico one of the great industrial nations of the century, but Dr. Hopkins expressed the view that although Mexico has wonderful possibilities, any attempt to industrialize the fifteen million Indians will be a repetition of what history has proved many times before. When Indian culture is disturbed out of its customary ways of living, the change is too great and inevitably means extinction of the race. The Mexican Indians should be given only those things of civilization that can safely be assimilated by them.

Longer Turnouts for Musical Organizations

Make use of your talents!

If you can carry a tune or play an instrument there is a place for you in the a capella chorus or in the orchestra. Men are out of luck as far as singing is concerned, however, as the chorus has become solely a women's organization. Since the first rehearsal, at which only two men appeared, Mr. Snyder has given up hope for a mixed chorus and is arranging the music for women's voices.

In order to make such a group enjoyable and worthwhile more women are needed, especially sopranos. An hour of singing after lunch every day will be fun for you, too. Come while you have a chance. The women's chorus will meet only the first six weeks.

For you violinists and trumpeters, there are orchestra rehearsals every Monday evening at seven o'clock in room 100 of the Arts and Science building. You are welcome to come and play whether for credit or not. Mr. Ernst promises an interesting program for the quarter. The orchestra is scheduled to appear in some assemblies and also to play for commencement.

Paul Parker, artist of the University of Chicago, will conduct courses in painting, freehand drawing, and art appreciation for the full term of the 1937 summer session at the Central Washington College of Education, Ellensburg.

SERIES OF FOREIGN
FILMS TO BE SHOWN

Outstanding Moving Pictures to Be Presented by English Department

The English department announces a series of foreign films to be presented this summer in the auditorium.

The first program of the series will be shown Thursday evening, June 17, and is titled "The Film in Germany—Legend and Fantasy." In the first of the series will be seen films made in Germany from 1896 to 1919.

Germany has led the world in the production of really great films, mainly because the studios were subsidized and did not have to depend upon box office receipts to keep going. Their artists have been people who have since become world famous in various art fields. Great names such as those of Murnau, Dupont, Lubitsch, Reinhardt, Wegener, Jannings, Veidt, and Negri dot the early German films.

In this series will be shown excerpts from the Skladanowsky Primitives (1896), Don Juan's Wedding (1909), Misunderstood (1912), The Golem and The Cabinet of Doctor Caligari (1919). The last is probably the most famous movie ever made, or at least it shares with the Birth of a Nation and Potemkin.

Admission will be $1.00 to $5.00.(?)

DR. R. D. RUSSELL

We have another educator with us who is from the University of Idaho. He is a tall man whom you will most likely see about, and he bears a striking resemblance to Dr. Samuelson.

He was born in Springville, Tennessee. He received his Bachelor's Degree at Union University, and his Doctor's Degree at the University of Iowa. For a time he was director of teacher training at Humboldt State Teachers College in California, then Supervisor of Rural schools, Siskiyou county, California. Now he is professor of secondary education at the University of Idaho.

He is very well known in the field of secondary education and is here for the curricular conference this week.

Dr. Hopkins is a rather short, stocky man whom you have probably seen about the campus by now, with a humorous twinkle in his eye. A vital challenging man, he succeeds in putting across his ideas directly to his audience, without involving them in puzzling sentences. He gives us the feeling that he knows his line of work, and knows it well.

He was born in Truro, Massachusetts. He attended Massachusetts State Normal School, Columbia, and Harvard. One of his first positions was as an athletic director in a Somerville Boys' School in Massachusetts. He has also held the positions of principal and superintendent, and was at one time assistant professor of education at Harvard, and professor at Colorado. Now he is a curriculum specialist at Lincoln School and professor of Education at Teachers College, Columbia.

He has done some very successful work in curriculum revision in various states and is considered top man in his field.

TWO NEW TEACHERS AT TRAINING SCHOOL

Two visiting instructors have been added to the faculty of the Edison school for this summer term. Miss Rosenquist, who is staying in Apartment No. 7 in Kamola Hall, taught here last summer also. During the winter she is elementary supervisor at Fort Collins, Colorado, where she directs the work of the teachers in the first six grades.

For the six weeks that school is being held in the training school this quarter, she will have charge of Miss Egan's former sixth grade. The work of her class is being centered around the camping trip to the Girl Scout Camp in Tanum Canyon which it is planning to take with the fifth grade at the close of the summer session.

Miss Keeton, the other visiting instructor who is staying at the Bowen residence, has charge of the third grade of the Edison school. She teaches Intermediate Platoon for Social Science in the Seattle demonstration school during the regular school year. There the course of study as put out by the Seattle system is followed and the groups of twenty to thirty teachers are united to observe morning demonstrations. During this quarter Miss Keeton is instructing the children in local geography and in wild flowers found around Ellensburg.

FIRST ASSEMBLY

The initial assembly of the Associated Students of the summer term was called to order by the temporary chairman Mr. Barto last week in the spacious new auditorium of the campus, for the purpose of electing officers to rule the political domain and for a general introduction of the environment of the college to the students.

With nominations and immediate election from the floor, the following individuals topped the elective offices: President, Joe Chiotti, former Social Commissioner; Leo McKay, Vice-President; Catherine Riggs, Secretary; Woodrow Epp; Social Commissioner, and John Hunter, Sergeant-At-Arms. Under this regime a faithful and capable government, with the cooperation of the students, should blossom forth.

After some lusty community singing under the direction of Mr. Snyder and a few routine announcements, Doctor McConnell extended an official "Hello" to the assemblage. He also expressed glee in the completion of the new buildings of the college and the addition of new departments to augment the present curriculum which is keeping in stride with the newer educational trends of other institutions of higher learning.

Paul Parker, visiting instructor of the Art Department, from Chicago University, and Miss Jane Potter of the University of Oregon, the instructed in folk dancing and sports for women here during the summer, were introduced to the students.

Mr. Whitney, Registrar, made some incidental announcements concerning enrollment and diplomas; he also urged all those in doubt about their schedules to consult him at once.

Philosopher's Column

By Annabel Black

Note:

I have been philosophizing all year to a group of college students, but I feel rather odd doing it for you with a much richer experience than mine. But here goes—I hope you'll enjoy it.—The philosopher.

BEAUTY

Nothing is beautiful until we see it for its beauty. Unless we lie under a tree and look up into its interwoven branches and wonder at its loveliness, the tree has never been mantled with beauty, for only as we see it does its beauty exist.

We then hold a vast responsibility as interpreters of beauty, the disciples of fineness so to speak. I saw a little bug flash into his hole in the sand, and as he disappeared I caught the rainbow of his color and suddenly the world was brighter—a glimpse of color sent out is nothing, but that same glimpse received by you or me is beauty.

PLACEMENT OFFICE CONTINUES ACTIVITY

One of the busiest places on the campus this summer is the placement office. Dr. E. E. Samuelson reports that the following people have been placed recently.

Marica Best, third grade, Wapato; Walter Crabbe, upper grades, Brewster; Margaret Davidson, primary grades, Aberdeen; Norma Erickson, second grade, Shelton; Laura Hahn, intermediate grades, Denmark; Katherine Riggs, second grade, Washougal; Edna Skyles, kindergarten, Dupont; Gilbert Giles, 6th and 7th grades, Malaga; Elizabeth Howe, 5th grade and art, Harrah; Mildred Moe, 5th grade, Ellensburg; Velma Bloom, Junior primary, Enumclaw; Harriet Johnston, 4th grade, Chelan; Mary Radosivich, 2nd grade, Buckley; Elma Rickert, Primary grades, Sultan; Arthur Short, upper grades, Mount Vernon; Mae Sterling, upper grades, Richmond Beach; Ruth Treadwell, 2nd grade, Longview; Richard Waldron, 2nd grade, Longview.

A PRAYER

Do not let me fall but let me live upon the heights. I would not live on an even drudging level with the crowd. I would live above them. Altho I must often mingle with the crowds, oh, let me live sometimes on the heights alone. I would even barter the depths if you would but give me even rarely the land upon hills. I cannot write lines of strength or beauty unless I am there. Oh, lift me to the highest possible pinnacle that I might give to those below.

ARE YOU WISE?

Are you wise?
Wise with the pages of many books,
Wise with the passage of many years,
Wise with the depths of bitter experience?

Are you wise?

I am not wise
Life is long and youth is short
I dance and forget to be wise
Why not you?

Be wise?
Not I, for soon wisdom will leave me
And I will have nothing
Why be wise?

Trade wisdom for love,
Love of followmen, of people on the road.
You say, "But that is wisdom."
Perhaps.

RHAPSODY IN SUE

Week-ends . . . the elating, disappointing, exciting, gruesome week-ends. Among other things Sue had many visitors. Irene Hoisington was here sharing Madeline Reynold's bunk.

Edith Ryan went to Pullman with her parents, taking her brother, Warren, a sophomore, back to school.

Montana State started an uproar Sunday evening. All that could be heard was, "Heh, do yuh wanna date? Montana State's downstairs!"

Trainor seemed to haunt Sue over the week-end. Was it ping pong or Ellie? Absolutely no doubt about it.

All Sunday afternoon a reception committee parked in chairs obstructing Sue's front door embarrassing innocent and uneducated freshmen who arrived—no end. Speaking of freshmen, one Hartwey seemed to crash the younger set at the dance . .
